

announced that the awarding of prizes would be next in order.

Miss Josie Bybee was found a winner of the whole twelve games, and was awarded a beautiful hand-painted cheese plate. Mr. Orson Williams was highest among the gentlemen, having won ten games; he was given a fine china cup and saucer.

The booby prizes were given to Mr. Ed. Ritter and Mrs. F. Ritter.

At twelve o'clock a most delicious lunch was served which was thoroughly enjoyed by the participants. After the luncheon was cleared away, some choice vocal and instrumental selections were rendered by Messrs. Lundgren, Dye and Williams. It was a very merry crowd that dispersed in the small hours of morning, and if the first enjoyment of the year is a criterion there is much pleasure in store for those who were so fortunate as to be numbered among the guests.

Those present were, Messrs. and Mesdames, E. Ritter, H. Childs, F. Ritter, S. Dye, Jas. Fife, John A. Child, R. O. Rolson of Winnemucca, Nev.; Mrs. Chas. Taylor; Misses Josie, Nannie, Goldie and Mabel Bybee; Messrs. Fred Mortensen, Lee Bybee, Orson Williams and d. Lundgren; Mrs. R. O. Rolson, Winnemucca, Nev.

JOLLY GATHERING.

A very pleasant gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eastman Wednesday evening, the time being spent in music and singing, after which a lunch was served.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. W. Eastman, John Hastings, Charles Somerville, William Adams of Idaho; Thomas Morley, A. T. Waldram, Mr. James Berry, Mr. William Vaughn, Mrs. C. Brown, Mrs. C. Williamson, Misses Leonora Eastman, Bertha Williamson, Ella Strum, Maggie Somerville, and Lenora Hastings.

A SOCIAL EVENT

Eastern Stars Entertain in a Queenly Style.

An event of no small social prominence, obtained too late for inclusion in Saturday's social resume, was the Eastern Star installation on Friday night, which was followed by a splendidly arranged program and a banquet. The members were permitted to invite their acquaintances who might be eligible to initiation into the order, which swelled the attendance to a goodly number, and resulted in a most pleasing evening of sociability.

The installation ceremony, which was the chief feature, placed in office the following:

Worthy matron, Minnie Haslet; worthy patron, J. H. Epperson; associate matron, Eunice Gordon; secretary, Sarah Ross; treasurer, Evelyn Stowe; conductress, Elsie Badcon; associate conductress, Annie Lewis; Adah, Gertrude Hutton; Ruth, Emma Anderson; Esther, Mamie Littlefield; Martha, Lillian Halstead; Electa, Edna Nichols; warder, Ida Hayes; sentinel, W. M. Anderson; chaplain, Anna Epperson; marshal, Emma Hayes; organist, Caddie Ruland.

Then was admirably presented an interesting program, which was immediately succeeded by a banquet, the like of which, has never been excelled in this city.

That all extracted unbounded enjoyment is the one conclusion to draw, when so many and such well executed amusements were offered and especially when the entertainers were the social-famed Eastern Star ladies.

CARD PARTY.

One of the most enjoyable social affairs of the week was the card party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ritter, at their beautiful home in Riverdale, on Thursday evening. Early in the evening the guests arrived until the spacious parlors were filled. After a pleasant exchange of New Year's greetings, Mrs. Ritter seated her friends at their respective tables and then began a friendly rivalry for the prizes, the game chosen, being the old favorite, high-five. A delicious punch was served at intervals during the playing and all the guests can testify to its merits. Twelve games were played, then the hostess
